

LETTER TO THOSE ENQUIRING ABOUT A HOME CHURCH

Dear Enquirer,

Where it seems possible, we like to put a home church leader in touch with someone enquiring about a home church in their area. However, more often than not, this isn't possible because we don't know of a group in the area concerned.

When anyone joins an existing group it must be realised that the group changes and this may not be satisfactory for the group or for the person joining. We all come from many different experiences in our Christian journey.

OIKOS Australia is able to assist you in various ways to start a group. A good way to start is to invite 2 or 3 friends to a meal to share your vision. Home church is a group of people, however small, who want to encourage one another, share life, pray together, read the Bible together, and enjoy God and one another. There is no strict format you have to follow or for everyone to agree on minor matters of doctrine for this to happen. Home church leaders in your region would be willing to give you support. Resources are available on our web site especially in the subscribers' section.

Please feel free to ring or email OIKOS Australia if you want to chat with us about your possible way forward and we will be pleased to give you any possible assistance.

May you be in the right place at the right time with the right people for God's Kingdom purposes and for the future He has for you.
